James Caan, star of TV's Dragons' Den joins forces with HSBC to host an event for recruitment companies to demonstrate how they can maximise their growth in 2011

Recruitment companies are gathering for a special industry event hosted by HSBC and Hamilton Bradshaw, the private equity company owned by James Caan.

James Caan is guest speaker and will be co-hosting the event on December 6, alongside HSBC Commercial and HSBC Economists. This is HSBC's flagship recruitment event to support their business clients and demonstrate how recruitment companies can maximise growth in 2011.

James will be sharing his own personal experiences in the recruitment industry in starting, scaling and exiting recruitment businesses.

Also guest speaking will be Dennis Turner, Chief Economist at HSBC who will be providing guests with valuable insights on the direction of the UK and global economy.

The event will be held at HSBC Private Bank, 68 St James's Street, London
